

Top Artists Honoured at the MARTY Awards

Mississauga's leading artists were honored last night at an evening of red carpet glamour at the 2010 MARTY Awards. Held at the Living Arts Centre in Mississauga, a sold out audience comprised of artists, media, dignitaries and arts supporters united to celebrate the winners of the coveted awards. Winners included the world-renowned rock band illScarlett, author Kathy Buckworth, internationally celebrated filmmaker Richie Mehta and dancer Austin Di Iulio from So You Think You Can Dance Canada.

The MARTYS were presented in a stylish media conference format complete with live music, hors d'oeuvres and cocktails. Past MARTY and Smooth Jazz Award winning guitarist Rob Tardik performed alongside saxophonist Carson Freeman. A total number of 93 artists were in the running as nominees for the awards. The winners were proudly announced by the MARTYS host, Rogers TV Station Manager Jake Dheer.
